

Will of Edmund Nunn of Hawstead, yeoman, 1667

- To son Edmund Nunn: close? in Rattlesden recently bought from John Moore, and freehold and copyhold tenement and land in Rattlesden. And one shilling.
- To son George Nunn: copyhold property and 12 acres of land in Rattlesden, bought from John Moore and Sarah his wife, Richard Double and Mary his wife, Philemon Broome and Margaret his wife. £45-worth of goods and chattels.
- Son Robert is bound to John White, my son-in-law, husband of my daughter Frances, for the sum of £3 3 shillings yearly (being the interest on a legacy of threescore pounds). After Frances death, the payment to go to Frances' daughters.
- To son Robert – three tenements with land in Hawstead, lately purchased from Henry Sparke. But only as long as he pays John Nunn, my eldest son, one annual [page missing?] 40 shillings. William Prior, John Wales and Joseph Page lately lived in the dwellings. Also to Robert – a bedstead.
- To son John – one shilling
- To daughter Sarah Craske and son-in-law Henry Craske – one shilling
- To daughter Frances White 20 shillings, and to son-in-law John White 12 pence.
- Rest and residue to be divided between sons Edmund and George.

Executor: son George Nunn, to be supervised by Robert Nunn.

Witnesses: Oliver Towler x, Mary Page, Henry Craske

Written 30th July 1667

Proved: 18 December 1667

SRO ref: Edgar 269