

Examination: Eleanor Quilter, 8th February 181_

The examination of Eleanor Quilter of Saint Osyth in the County of Essex singlewoman Touching the place of her settlement taken upon Oath the 8th day of February 181_.

Who saith that she was born in the Parish of Saint Osyth where her father resided under a Certificate from the Parish of Kirby in the said County as she has heard and believes. That about three years ago last June she offered her service to Mrs Wade of Fingringhoe who asked her this Examinant how she let herself when she answered by the Month, that her Mistress said she always hired her Servants by the week that she accordingly let herself & entered upon her service at the wages of 1s/6d per week subject to a weeks wages or a weeks warning that she continued in the Service of her said Mistress for nearly a Year and an Half and previous to her quitting her Service her Mistress gave her a weeks warning that she received all her wages as she wanted them That she had never done any Act to gain a settlement other than as appears by this her Examination That she is now Pregnant with Child which Child is likely to be born a Bastard.
